Justice Moody took no part in the case. Justice Peckham declared there was no evidence showing Sheriff Shipp had entered into any conspiracy to lynch Johnson, or that he had failed to take proper measures for the protection of his prisoner.

"QUINTUPLETS," NURSE SAID, AND HALE GASED.
Only Nineteen Recorded Cases of Such Liberty on Part of The Stork.

Syracuse, May 25.—"Is it a boy or a girl?" John Hale, of Collier, asked the nurse.
"Four of them are boys and one is a girl," was the answer that made John Hale gasp.
The quintuplets were all perfectly formed and seemingly healthy. In the absence of sufficient natural nourishment, however, it became necessary to administer cow's milk, and three of them died as the result. The two survivors are doing "fine."
The Hales, instead of manifesting pride in the stork's prodigality, sought to keep it from the public, the nurse and all others concerned being sworn to secrecy and reporters being "shooed" from the place. Mr. Hale is about twenty-eight years old and his wife is a few years younger. They had not previously had any children.
The index catalogue of the Surgeon-General's library at Washington, according to physicians, contains records of only nineteen similar cases. And curiously enough, a case has just been reported from Clark county, Wisconsin.

SAVE 194 FROM WRECKED SHIP

Mail Steamer Reaches Seward, Alaska, With Survivors

OF FOUNDERED COLUMBIA

Had Terrible Experiences—All Brave, However, Except Panic-stricken Italians—Latter Are Cowed With Revolvers.

Seattle, May 25.—A cable despatch to the Post-Intelligencer from Seward, Alaska, says that the mail steamer Dora has arrived there with 194 survivors of the ship Columbia, wrecked near Unimak Pass. The survivors tell a tale of suffering and heroism seldom excelled.

Following the grounding of the vessel in a blinding snowstorm eight miles east of Unimak Pass on the night of April 30, the experience of the passengers and crew of the Columbia were harrowing.
There was no wind at the time, but a terrific surf was running from a storm on the previous night. On the vessel were fifty-three Italians, ninety-six Japanese, and thirty-five Americans and Scandinavians. All were passive and obedient in the face of danger save the Italians, who in panic raved and prayed. A boat was lowered and the Italians poured in. The Italians attempted to seize two more boats, but were restrained at the point of guns. They rowed eight miles to Scotch Cape Lighthouse. Returning two days later for provisions they had to be compelled with revolvers to take only food and refrain from looting.

Two former life saving men, Christ Christopherson and Ernest Anderson, insisted that they be allowed to proceed for shore alone in a dinghy with skiff. They succeeded in establishing a life line to the shore.
Disembarking by means of the large fish boats following the life line occupied twenty-four hours. Dr. Thrasher the ship physician, worked continuously rewiring the men caparined in the icy waters. Many were nearly drowned, and it was in the resuscitation of these that the Japanese showed fine spirit. All the boats were smashed but one.
Only one woman, the Australian wife of Mate Canteron, was with the party. On the morning of May 2 a storm caused the final abandonment of the wrecked Columbia. The same day the ship burst to the water's edge.

JAIL FOR LYNCHING

Sheriff is Held Guilty of Contempt

DID NOT PROTECT NEGRO

Who Had Appealed—Supreme Court on the Case of Johnson—The Court on June 1 Will Pass Its Sentence.

Washington, May 25.—The supreme court yesterday handed down its opinion on what is known as the Shipp contempt case.
It arose over the conviction and sentence to death of Ed Johnson, a negro, for criminal assault at Chattanooga, Tenn., and the allowance by the supreme court of an appeal. When the announcement was made that the appeal had been allowed, a mob stormed the jail at Chattanooga, took Johnson to a railroad bridge out the outskirts of the city and lynched him.

The then attorney general, Mr. Moody, after an investigation by the secret service under the department of justice, filed a bill in the supreme court charging Sheriff Shipp, his deputies and eighteen citizens of Chattanooga with contempt of the supreme court in permitting, aiding or taking part in the lynching. Testimony was taken by a commissioner, resulting in the dismissal of the charge against several of the respondents.

The court finds Sheriff Shipp, Deputy Sheriff Gibson and Williams, Nolan, Padgett and May guilty of contempt and dismisses the information as to Deputy Sheriff Galloway and Messrs. Justice and Wood.
Attachments were ordered issued for those found in contempt, and they are ordered to appear before the court when it meets on June 1. Justice Peckham dissented.
Justices White and McKenna concurred in the views of Justice Peckham.
